Discount Lines Moderately Well Filled
—Clearings, $2,800,000.

The Produce Markets Rather Less Active—Provisions Higher, But Close Weak.

What Turns Downward—Corn Easier
—Cattle Firmer.

FINANCIAL.

The financial situation is one of moderate and healthy activity. An increase has been noted in the demand for loans this week. The lumber men are borrowing, and there is a larger offering of commercial paper from mercantile parties who are discounting their Eastern indebtedness. There is a small surplus of loanable funds, but it is diminishing.

Rates of discount are 80 to 90 per cent at the banks to regular customers. On the street, rates are about the same.

New York exchange was quoted between banks at 100 to 101, 101 to 102, 102 to 103, 103 to 104, 104 to 105, 105 to 106, 106 to 107, 107 to 108, 108 to 109, 109 to 110, 110 to 111, 111 to 112, 112 to THE SECRET SESSION.

Special Dispatch to The Tribune.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 14.—For the first time since the memorable day of 1863 has the Senate of Illinois resolved itself into an executive session, and never before had a dominant party sought to perpetrate itself by means of an executive session. The occasion to-day was sought by Mike Robinson, of Cook County, who allowed to himself the leadership of the Democratic faction majority. That majority, under cover of a secret session, proposed to whip in weak-kneed members. At 11 o'clock the special order on confirming the appointments of Gov. Beveridge to the several State Institutions came up, and to carry out the agreed programme adopted last week by the Democracy, Mr. Robinson moved that the Senate go into secret session. Mr. Marshall asked the Senator desired a secret session. He was willing to let the world know what he did as a Senator.

CONSIDERED THE PROPOSITION INFAMOUS AND COWARDLY.

Mr. Robinson called him to order, and demanded that the language be taken down. Mr. Marshall retorted: "I say infamous and cowardly, and you can take them down and digest them at your leisure."

A running debate then took place between Messrs. Dearborn, Robinson, Jody, and Hunt. Mr. Shuman the while pounding vigorously with his gavel. Mr. Marshall moved to adjourn. [Wang and noise.] The motion was lost.

Mr. Jody moved to take down the language. Mr. Robinson retorted: "I say infamous and cowardly, and you can take them down and digest them at your leisure."

LEGISLATIVE.

GILL'S BANKING BILL.

Special Dispatch to The Tribune.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 14.—Gill's Banking bill came up this morning on second reading, and was the subject of animated debate. After several amendments had been offered, Mr. Crocker moved a reference to the Judiciary Committee, because he wanted the question considered whether in its present form the bill will not have to be submitted under the Constitution to a popular vote before it could take effect. He apprehended such was the case, and that the Supreme Court would so rule.

Mr. McKinley argued that the bill would not require any submission to the people. It did not provide for a system of banking.

After discussion, Mr. Crocker's motion to refer was lost.

Mr. Palmer then offered an amended inserting in Sec. 1, line 4, after the word "banking," the words "Individual banker and President or Cashier of every National Bank."

Upon Mr. Palmer's amendment Mr. Herrington said there were but twenty-five State banks in Illinois, and that there were 201 private and 144 National banks. The National banks

OFFERED ABSOLUTELY NO PROTECTION TO DEPOSITORS.

In Chicago some of them already gone up, robbing depositors of hundreds of thousands. He wanted these National banks and the 201 private banks which received deposits brought within the operation of the same law applicable to State and savings banks.

In the discussion that followed, it was repeatedly urged that the State could not pass any law to regulate National banks, which do business under the laws of the United States. It was also repeatedly charged that the amendment was offered for the purpose of killing the bill. The retort was "Killed Mr. Easton's motion out of order, and so the matter was closed."

Mr. Easton introduced a bill amending the Revenue law, as suggested by Comptroller Farrell, of Chicago, to allow to my friend on the City Treasurer to be used in paying city taxes.

Mr. Easton's motion out of order, and so the matter was closed.

Special Correspondence of The Tribune.

CANTONMENT RENO, Powder River, Feb. 24.—The hitherto oppressive quiet of this cantonment has just been pleasantly ruffled by the arrival of the first party of explorers and settlers.

Twenty-third Infantry. Readers of The Tribune have already been informed of the mission of the Chief Spotted-Tail and 300 followers to the Crazy-Horse region, a mission inaugurated from Spotted-Tail Agency on the 11th inst. This being the nearest military station to the hostile camp, it was determined upon by General Crook as the point of rendezvous for the expedition.

General Crook, who is now at the head of the expedition, was accordingly sent hither to confer with representatives of the hostiles, or to forward to the Department Commissioned information regarding their intentions as may be received from Spotted-Tail. It yet lacks two or three days of the time when the wished-for tidings can come. Of course the officers and men accompanying the expedition are all very anxious to get on their way to have the matter decided, to positively know whether the hostiles are coming to ask for peace, or whether they are bent on continuing their warfare.

In the former event the war will be practically ended, and their worse than campaign life will be changed for that of the comfortable garrison; in the latter, however, it is known that an expedition will enter the field at once.

THE MODERN CANTONMENT.

At this place, the Sioux war, Eastern people have been making a modern cantonment life, and how people exist within its precincts. The location of a cantonment is noticeable for a number of inevitable features. It is generally situated on a high, open, and level plain, generally as it can be, as necessity doesn't call for the storage and guarding of supplies anywhere else. It is
